

ANZAME Inc. Privacy Statement

November 2003

ANZAME is committed to complying with National Privacy Principles in the Privacy Amendment (Private Sector) Act 2000, which commenced in December 2001, and the privacy provisions of all applicable legislation. The Office of the Federal Privacy Commissioner can provide further information about the National Privacy Principles.

ANZAME is also committed to complying with the New Zealand Privacy Act 1993.

ANZAME Inc. collects personal information for the purposes of processing applications for membership, maintaining membership records, making of Awards and seeding grants, and contacting members.

We collect and store information about you from a variety of sources including membership application and renewal forms and other forms and transactions.

If you provide incomplete or inaccurate information, we may not be able to contact you and/or update your records.

The Privacy Acts allow a member to have access to and correct records of their information held by ANZAME Inc.

ANZAME Inc. does create databases, including electronic databases, of membership to be available to the membership at large and for other educational and professional purposes, as approved by the Committee of Management.

ANZAME Inc. does not disclose personal information from databases to other organizations, groups or individuals for commercial purposes.

If you wish to make a complaint or inquiry regarding the information we store about you, you can do so by sending an email, by writing or by faxing the Honorary Secretary of ANZAME Inc, the Association of Health Professional Education.